[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 3.

EASTERN STATES.

Trial of Stokes.

NEW YORK, March 1.—In the Stokes case, Graham wanted the case to go the jury on facts as they stood. It would be highly improper, in a criminal case, for the Court substantially to take the case from the jury by directing a verdict against Stokes. There was no instance in which, in a criminal case, the Court had instructed the jury to find a verdict for the people.

After Graham concluded, Judge Cardoza said he would do one of two things; let the jury find a verdict as above, or let them find a special verdict in favor of the defense. He would instruct them to find for the Board of Commissioners properly constituted, but in all other facts for the prisoner he did not think it necessary that McKeon, of Stokes' counsel, should address the jury.

McKeon thought differently, and proceeded in some remarks about exposing devilry in the City Hall; and, turning to Stokes, said: "This unfortunate man is as guiltless as any one in this court room." This was greeted with scorn and laughter from every one in the room, which caused Stokes to appear frightened at this outburst of unfriendliness.

Judge Cardoza said he would clear the court room if such demonstrations were made again, when McKeon continued his remarks until court adjourned.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Judge Cardoza this morning decided the issue raised in Stokes' case as to the constitutionality of the grand jury which indicted him for the murder of Fisk, to be one of law; and without permitting the question to go the jury, ordered a verdict to be entered for the people against Stokes. If it was decided that the grand jury was illegally organized, he says serious consequences might issue in respect to a large number of criminals already under indictment. He would grant, however, a stay of proceedings against Stokes for 20 days to bring the matter before an appellate tribunal. Stokes' counsel excepted to the findings of the Court.

Trial of Mayor Hall.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The trial of Mayor Hall commenced this morning. The case for the prosecution was opened by Clinton.

New York Legislature.

ALBANY, March 1.—The Judiciary Committee of the Senate are reported at dead lock on the Erie railroad bill.

Labor Strikes.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Trouble among laborers on Long Island has occurred. The strikers are threatening with violence a gang of men who refuse to join their demand for advance of wages.

A dispatch says a strike occurred at Columbia, S. C., among the Postoffice laborers there, because the Superintendent prescribes ten hours as a day's work.

Steamboat Collision on the Ohio.

CINCINNATI, March 2.—A special to the Chronicle says the Green River packet, Falls City, was run into by the steamer J. W. Garrette, at the mouth of the Old Canal, at Louisville, at midnight, sinking the former. She was struck amidships, sinking to the boiler deck; as she sank a stove capsized, setting fire to the boat, burning her upper works entirely. Passengers only had time to escape in their night clothes. The Falls City had a valuable cargo, and will prove a total loss. Two negroes of the crew are missing, supposed to have been drowned.

Southern News.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—The Legislature adjourned last night sine die.

Several plundering schemes passed, and but very little was done in the way of reform before the Senate adjourned. Lieut.-Gov. Pinchback was called on for a speech. In response, he took occasion to say that the Legislature was, in his opinion, the worst ever assembled, and expressed satisfaction at its final termination.

RICHMOND, March 1.—A dispatch states that the tobacco business in the whole State, as well as in North Carolina, is at a stand still, awaiting Congressional action. Ten thousand negroes in Richmond alone are idle, and an aggregate of over 30,000 in the State are out of employment and suffering.

A Columbia, S. C., dispatch states that the tax levy for State purposes is to be 6 mills on the dollar, which will not provide for back debts. A bill passed the Assembly last night striking out the word "white" from the militia code. This will allow negro companies and regiments.

Murderers Arrested.

HARTFORD, March 2.—Daniel Scott and Mitchell Chester, who murdered John Britings and his wife and a girl named Gowdy, in a house of ill-fame, near Windsor Locks, on January 2d, were recently arrested at Van Wert, Ohio, by Chicago detectives, and brought to Windsor Locks last night.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—Isaac Hummel, Emanuel Ackenbach and Wm. Kreamer, arrested at Pottsville on suspicion of being connected with the murder of Daniel Kreamer and probably fatally wounding of his wife, were released to-day. Joseph Brown, the alleged murderer, was committed to answer the charge at the April term of the Criminal Court. Mrs. Kreamer has returned to consciousness and is still living, though in a precarious condition.

Live Stock and Farm Machinery for Japan.

CHICAGO, March 2.—The corner-stone of the new Chamber of Commerce was laid yesterday. The building will be formally opened October 9th. A number of head of live stock of the finest breed, and a quantity of improved farm machinery, with an assortment of the choicest seeds and plants, arrived here en route to Japan, for an experimental farm to be established on the island of Yeddo, under the superintendence of ex-Commissioner Capron.

English Stockholders in the Erie.

NEW YORK, March 1.—A London special states that English stockholders in the Erie never compromised with Jay Gould. They earnestly hope such laws will be passed as to enable them to reap some dividends.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Reply to Earl Granville's Note.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The reply of the Secretary of State to Earl Granville's recent note regarding the Geneva arbitration was sent to New York by this evening's mail, to be dispatched thence by the morrow's English steamer. The Cabinet agreed to all the points presented, and were in session several hours on the subject. The reply is couched in amicable terms so as to leave no doubt in English minds of the friendly feelings of our Government, and its desire to have a full and perfect and final settlement of the claims through the means specified in the treaty. The United States Government adheres to its proposition as heretofore indicated, and sees no reason to modify its statement of the case, having in good faith submitted the same to arbitrators as required by the Treaty of Washington, and will abide the result.

It is true that there has been a remonstrance from the Government of Spain regarding Sickles, interference in Spanish politics, but it was of a friendly character.

The case of the English Minister to Italy has been discussed in diplomatic circles, but has not been brought to the attention of the State Department.

Miscellaneous Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The presentation of the Japanese Embassy to the President will probably take place Monday or Tuesday.

The public debt statement shows a reduction of $12,000,000.

Senator Sumner, in a personal explanation, stated that his health will not permit his serving on the Committee of Investigation of the sale of arms to the French. He regretted this, but the effect of injuries received eighteen years ago still clung to him, and he said he had been painfully admonished within the last few days, and his physician had imperatively prescribed repose.

Credentials of Sargent, Senator from California, were presented.

Gen. O. O. Howard, at the request of the Secretary of the Interior, has consented to visit Arizona in the character of a special agent of the Government to report on the conduct of the Apaches, in respect to which he has large discretion to take any action which may appear to him to be to the interest of peace. He takes with him a large number of his staff, and leaves here next Thursday.

Ex Congressman Stokes was to-day sentenced to pay a fine of $1,500 and costs, for having prosecuted a claim against the Government while a member of Congress.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day called in one million six hundred thousand dollars of three per cent. certificates.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Judge McKean, of Utah, had an interview with the President to-day in company with Attorney General Williams, in relation to affairs in that Territory.

The President invited the Japanese to visit the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church to-morrow.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Examination of the Queen's Would-be Assassin.

LONDON, March 1.—The assassin, O'Connor, was brought before a magistrate at Bow street at noon to-day for examination. The court-room and all its approaches were densely crowded. The prisoner appears very boyish, not unpleasing in appearance, and to-day was quiet and unassuming in his manner. On being interrogated by the magistrate he stated that his name was Arthur O'Connor; that he was born in England; also that his father was a native of Ireland. It was subsequently allelted that his grandfather was the well-known Charles O'Connor, one of the leaders of the Chartist movement.

John Brown, Her Majesty's groom, Colonel Hardinge, Equerry to the Queen, and Prince Leopold testified to the circumstances of the assault, of which they were eye witnesses. Their statements do not differ materially from accounts already telegraphed to the Associated Press. It is evident that the papers found on the prisoner are his own work, and it was the impression of all who heard them read that they are the product of a deranged mind.

Gladstone and the Treaty of Washington.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Minister Gladstone, in his letter to a correspondent denying that he used in his speech the offensive language concerning the Washington Treaty attributed to him, says: "It is an entire mistake to suppose I ever said it. Every rational mind must see but one meaning in the Treaty of Washington. Nothing would induce me to use such expressions. The assertion is stated to be as follows: 'I believe the meaning of the treaty to be clear and unambiguous, according to any legitimate test whatever which can be applied to it.' This proposition I am, of course, ready to sustain by argument, but every other person is equally entitled to think—if he sees cause—what I hold to be clear and unambiguous to be dark or doubtful, or that it is clear and unambiguous in a sense contrary to mine. What I trust is, that others, upon close examination, will not see cause to think any such thing. This point a little time and patience only can thoroughly elucidate."

Sir Stafford Northcote, one of the Joint High Commissioners, writes to the London Globe explaining the unfavorable comments of that journal upon the promotion of Lord Ripson to a Marquisate for services on the Commission. He says the ex-Commissioners are silent upon charges of carelessness, slovenliness and other faults which have been made against them, from a disposition not to further complicate the unfortunate difficulty which, he trusts, may yet be satisfactorily settled.

English News.

LONDON, March 2.—The Queen has written a letter to Mr. Gladstone saying that she is anxious to express publicly her own personal deep sense of the reception she and her children met on Thursday from the millions of her subjects. Words are too weak to convey how deeply she was touched and gratified by the immense enthusiasm and affection of all. She returns her heartfelt thanks to the whole nation, and declares that herself and all the members of her family will ever affectionately remember the day of thanksgiving.

The London press look with much surprise upon the letter of Gladstone to the New York World's correspondent. The general expression is that the act is one of questionable propriety, neither necessary nor expedient; that it was lowering his dignity to discuss such matters with a correspondent.

There was considerable excitement in Kingston last night, over the sudden termination of a Republican meeting which was being held in that town. White Ogden, a member of Parliament, was speaking, a party of Royalists attacked the building wherein the people were congregated, broke the windows and dispersed the meeting. The Royalists were particularly threatening toward Ogden, who was compelled to scale the wall and seek safety in flight.

From Rome.

ROME, March 2.—It is now believed that the Pope meditates departing from this city at an early date. Archives and jewelry in the Vatican are being securely packed so as to be in readiness for removal.

Fatal Accident—Eruption of Vesuvius.

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, March 1.—A building in which a large number of persons resided, fell this morning, burying the inmates in the ruins. Fourteen dead bodies have been taken from the debris. A large force of men is engaged searching for the bodies of victims.

A Naples letter says Vesuvius is again in a state of eruption, after a long period of inaction. A month ago smoke was very slight, but it commenced to get denser, and at times the mountain sent up ashes. These have recently been followed by projections, plainly to be seen at the crater every night. A movement appears in three distinct points. Fears are entertained of a serious outbreak.

WEST INDIES.

Valmaseda Refuses to Liberate Imprisoned Students, as ordered by King Amadeus, etc.

HAVANA, Feb. 29.—A letter says seventy Spanish Representatives recently waited on King Amadeus, in Madrid, with unequivocal proof of the innocence of the young students condemned to the chain gang. The King telegraphed to Valmaseda at Havana to release the students at once, but Valmaseda declined, on a farcical pretense that the volunteers would assassinate the lads as soon as out of prison.

The Cuban press are excited at the turn of affairs between England and the United States, and argues that Spain has more reasons to complain of the United States, and more valid claims against the Washington Government for indemnification than the United States has against England.

MEXICO.

Visit of William Cullen Bryant.

NEW YORK, March 1.—A Vera Cruz letter says it is generally credited in Mexican Government circles that the visit of William Cullen Bryant is of a political character, embodying some proposal from the American Government to President Juarez for a protectorate by the United States over that country. The report gained such credit that the official organ has been obliged to deny any knowledge of such mission.

ARIZONA.

Miners and Indians Suffering for Food—Rich Mines.

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—Dates from Prescott, Arizona, of the 20th says. At Mineral Park Camp, where are congregated 500 miners, there was not, on the 11th inst., one day's rations of anything except wheat and corn in the ear, intended for horse feed. The Indians are also destitute and are stealing stock and threatening to attack the town. Six weeks have elapsed since any merchandise reached Hardyville or Fort Mojave, and a miner corresponding from Mineral Park says starvation stares them in the face. Parties had left for this city, Phoenix and Prescott, for supplies. Several wagon loads of supplies left here for that region this week, which, it is hoped, will reach the destitute miners by the 15th or 20th.

From Bradshaw and other mines we have most encouraging reports. The marvelous richness of the Tiger and Sonora lodes is the object of much comment. It is claimed that they are the richest in the world.

"Anybody to beat Grant," is now the grand hailing sign of departed Democracy. That was the muttered prayer of the rebels during the war. It began at Donelson, and its last echoes died away on the field of Appomattox.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

EASTERN STATES.

Bryant Not Sent to Mexico—Government will not Interfere.

CHICAGO, March 2.—The Journal's Washington correspondent telegraphs that there is no truth in the statement that William Cullen Bryant's visit to Mexico has any official signification. Our Government is not disposed to interfere in any manner with that Government, much less to offer a protectorate or meddle with the internal difficulties of that country.

Railroad Bridge Across the Missouri Finished.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, March 2.—The temporary bridge across the Missouri river at this city will be abandoned on Monday on account of warm weather and the moving out of the ice. The Union Pacific railroad company have completed their track on this side of their bridge. They commence regular trains of passengers and freight over the great highway immediately after the temporary bridge is abandoned.

Trial of Stokes.

NEW YORK, March 2.—When the Stokes case was opened this morning, McKeon of the counsel for Stokes, referring to the demonstrations of spectators yesterday, when he (McKeon) had announced his belief in Stokes' innocence, said it was similar to the scene which had occurred when the Erie power was on trial in the person of Fisk in the Yorkville Police Court. He had reason to believe now has that the court room was packed with retainers of that power against him. The Judge said he thought everything had been done in the matter. He would take any course to protect the counsel. No one who knew John Graham would suspect him of any cowardice on account of his personal safety. McKeon said he had always lived among thieves, robbers and assassins, and he had no fear at all of what might happen to him in the presence of the Court. He did fear, however, what might happen to counsel outside the court house. He knew the death of Dorman B. Eaton had been attempted by assassination. If it was necessary to remove any of them, some means would be employed. He would ask the Court to direct the sheriff to place half a dozen men among the audience to control them. Judge Cardoza, after consulting with the sheriff, said that official informed him that he already had a dozen men among them.

WASHINGTON CITY.

California Legislature and Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Casserly presented and argued the Legislative resolutions regarding arms used in California.

Cole presented a resolution asking for the abolition of the quick-driver duty.

Ely and Sargent presented petitions that notes of U. S. gold banks be received for duties.

The nomination of McFarland of Sacramento, and Ayer of Nevada, as Registers of Land Offices, is still tied up. Cole is understood to consent to the confirmation, at least of Ayer.

Cragin is urged by home influences to remove Denig from the Navy Yard, but declines on the alleged reason of unwillingness to set a precedent of removing competent officers simply because of personal feeling.

L. Cass will shortly replace Mr. Woods as contractor for the San Francisco Marine Hospital. Patients and the medical profession strongly recommend it, and it is urged by Surgeon. The nomination of Gary as Appraiser was made by the President on his own volition. No member from California declines supporting it.

Utah Matters.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The President shows no disposition to yield to the Mormon clamor against Judge McKean now here. On the contrary, he is satisfied of his integrity and independence, and admired his courage in upholding the law.

Attorney General Williams received Judge McKean cordially, notwithstanding the stories asserting his opposition to McKean's course against Brigham Young. Williams had not decided, as Attorney Bates' friends claim, that McKean had not power under the Territorial laws in the Federal Court and with Federal machinery, this question is somewhat embarrassing until thoroughly examined.

Thus far the heavy Mormon lobby have failed to effect anything with the Executive. It is feared, however, that they may defeat Congressional appropriations for the necessary expenses of Mormon trials for murder.

The Great Investigation

After more than a year's incubation the report of the Investigation Commission appointed by the Legislature of this State at its last session has appeared We have looked over its pages with some care and perceive that certain petty irregularities of the Woods administration which the public had not full knowledge of already are exposed By far the greatest single swindle we are able to detect in connection with the report is the fat job which the Commission have given the present State Printer in the publication of the document It is a thick pamphlet of about 160 pages, and has undoubtedly cost the State several thousand dollars Now that our Democratic friends have got this partisan report, intended as a campaign document, at so great an expense to the taxpayers, we trust they are satisfied.

Little has been disclosed by the report that was not previously well known There are points warranting legitimate criticism, and even censure, against the Woods administration, and these are made the most of But the greater part of the document is wordy nothingness The Commission was wholly Democratic and bitterly partisan the testimony it took was mainly ex parte, and every point brought under discussion was treated in the exact style and language used by Democratic newspapers in their political articles One of the duties assumed by the Commission was that of 'scaling the warrants issued by the late Secretary of State The aggregate of these reductions is about $8 200 This is the amount which it is claimed was squandered needlessly in various ways by the Woods administration Most of this sum is made up by "scaling" warrants issued on account of the penitentiary, on the ground of over-charges and over allowances

It need not be doubted that the charges made and prices paid for supplies, labor, etc, were in some instances too high Too much, it is said, was paid for beef for consumption in the penitentiary Possibly so Citizens of Portland and Salem have for a long time been paying prices deemed too high for meats for their own tables. The Superintendent is thought by the Commissioners to have paid on some occasions two cents a pound too much He is declared also to have paid sometimes a dollar a cord too much for wood Warrants drawn for supplies like these are reduced. Of course it will occur to every one that a similar inquiry in a similar spirit into the past management of the penitentiary would disclose a similar state of things Prices of many kinds of articles are largely owing to the circumstances existing at the time of purchase

At present we have not time and space to enter largely into an examination of this report But we desire to note here the fact that in many instances the late administration is condemned in the most emphatic language for having done exactly what the present administration is doing For instance, Secretary May is censured in unmeasured terms for drawing warrants when there were no appropriations to meet them, and thus, "thereby inflicting an injury on the public credit" Now Secretary Chadwick has almost from the beginning of his term been doing this very same thing When Mr. May did this there was no judicial decision against it Mr Chadwick has done it, as we are informed, directly in the face of a judicial decision pronouncing it unlawful and wrong

Again, the late Board of School Land Commissioners is denounced with great severity for not obeying the law of 1868, requiring them to turn over the moneys in their hands to the county treasurers. This the present Board is refusing to do, and the entire Democratic press sustains the Board in its refusal.

Further, censure is passed upon the former Board for not lending the money on such security which the statute requires But no reference is mentioned of so clear a violation of law in this regard as was perpetrated by the present Board in the loan to the Chemeketa Hotel Company.

A few real abuses by the Woods administration are pointed out. One of them is the exorbitant charge by Gov. Woods for carriage hire on pretense of visiting the penitentiary Another is for a book-case with which he had charged the State, but which he did not leave to his successor in office. It is well that these things are exposed. But the general result of this prodigious effort is a lamentable failure A mountain has been in labor for more than a year The parturition is now finished and a mouse is the offspring

The First Emigrant to Oregon.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR I observe a discussion going on in the papers concerning the statement in Gov Grover's late lecture that O'Neil and Hubbard were the first emigrants to Oregon—coming in 1834

On September 14th last, I spent the evening with Mr Solomon Smith, at his house on Clatsop Plains, when he told me that he came to this country from New Hampshire, across the plains, with Wyeth, in 1832, and had lived here ever since.

The Herald breaks out with some jaculatory expressions upon the "scandalous" business of suppressing the Ku Klux It exclaims "Infamous outrage! Infernalized despotism! Our blood grows hot as we record this instance of red-handed tyranny" This is superb indignation We trust that our neighbor will, hereafter, as he finds his blood growing "hot from such a cause, take a few drops of allaying Wallamet water It is remarkable that the best bursts of indignation from the Democratic press always come forth when denouncing the suppression of Southern violence and rebellion Such choice ejaculations as those above were very common a few years ago when our armies were at work in the South.

The Mountaineer is exposing the treachery of certain Democratic members of the last Legislature who agreed to vote for the Dalles and Sandy wagon road bill in case members from the east side of the mountains would vote for the Wallamet locks bill. The history further shows how after the locks bill was passed, these gentlemen failed to keep their promise The truth is the leading Democrats of the State the party dynasty, were interested in the locks bill, but had no interest in the wagon road bill And that was what the matter was

A few days since on Long Tom while Wm Harrison was engaged in cutting out a road on a steep hill side he met with a serious accident He cut a limb from the lower side of a large log which started suddenly and rolled over him breaking a number of his ribs and crushing his chest and head in a terrible manner At last accounts he was not expected to recover

The flood of the 17th and 18th of February was much greater on the McKenzie than on the Middle and Coast branches of the Wallamet being nearly or quite as great in the upper part of the valley as in December, 1861 Large drifts of timber in the vicinity of the Mineral Springs that had withstood the floods of many years were swept away and considerable damage was done to the road, but the bridge at Strawberry Prairie was only slightly injured.

From the Eugene Journal: Mrs Zumwalt, who crossed the plains from Illinois, to this State in 1870, and who has been living with her son in-law, Mr J & J Crow, of Long Tom, is rather a remarkable lady She is in her 85th year, has now living 132 offspring, including children, grand-children and great-grand children She has not missed a meal since coming to Oregon She has evidently obeyed the command of the Scriptures to multiply and replenish the earth"

THE TERRITORIES

Puget Sound ships beef cattle to Victoria.

The Journal, of Lewiston, has suspended publication.

A schooner of two hundred tons is on the stocks at Port Discovery, Puget Sound.

The Beacon puts in a bid for the Conventions of both parties to be held at Kalama.

The Lake Washington Coal Company of Seattle will hereafter ship from that place 2,000 tons of coal a month

At Pumphrey's there is much activity in getting out timber for the three bridges that are to be constructed there, and abutments on the Cowlitz are to be commenced at once.

People at Puget Sound begin to complain that nearly all the land on either side of the Sound and west of the Cascade mountains has been reserved for the N P R R.

See what the railroad does! Whisky is retailed at six places at Pumphrey's. Some people may be inclined to doubt whether the railroad is a civilizer, since its first product is always a gin-mill

The Swinomish tide lands (at Puget Sound) have suffered considerably this winter. The high tides occurred while the rivers were low, which rendered the overflow unusually salt, and vegetation was damaged A system of dykes is proposed which will prevent a recurrence of this another winter.

Says the Olympia Echo A large proportion of the freight that has arrived at this place during the past few days was whisky, enough concentrated murder to depopulate a city, aside from the robbery and arson. About three more bonfire mills are nearly ready to open. We will then have two gin shops to each church in the place

Demagogue Schurz

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

"A lie well stuck to is as good as the truth," but Senator Schurz, though full of the most adhesive intentions, deserts his lies when badly cornered. Thus he says in his explanatory and vindicatory speech in the Senate, respecting brother-in-law Jussen, that he did not make a personal application for his appointment as revenue collector, but he owns up to the soft impeachment of having "indorsed" him Thus he did solely because he thought the large German element of Chicago was entitled to recognition That is to say, he did not bore the President in person, but only in writing, in behalf of brother in law Jussen, and even this was not because he loved Jussen as a brother-in-law, but because he revered him as a representative of the German element! Strange coincidence, that the German element in Chicago should seek expression through brother-in-law Jussen, while the German element in St Louis was taking all its honors through brother-in-law Schurz The fact that Mr Jussen, at the time of his appointment, was utterly unknown to the people of Oregon, except as an obscure lawyer who had been seen astride of a white horse at the head of a Wide Awake procession in 1860, and the additional fact that he was appointed to supersede one of the bravest and best volunteer officers of the late war—General Corse—would seem to indicate that there must have been some extraordinary pressure from without for his appointment That he ever was selected to represent the German element of Chicago we deny, that he received the indorsement of any prominent Republicans of Chicago, or elsewhere in Illinois, we deny also. His selection was opposed from the start by the Chicago Staats Zeitung, the German Republican paper of that city, and by every leading German and American politician of that city When Mr Charles B Farwell was elected to Congress by the Republicans, in 1870, his first movement, as to the party patronage of his district, was to demand the removal of Jussen and the appointment of Mr Herman Raster, an intelligent and influential German, who now holds the office. The change was made solely on the ground that Jussen had no other recommendation than that he had married Schurz a sister, or that Schurz had married his sister we have forgotten which that he did not represent either socially or intellectually the German element of Chicago, and that he was not remarkable for his efficiency as a Collector For these reasons, and none other he was removed. Immediately after his removal he attempted to alienate the German vote from the Republican party. He called several ward meetings, at each of which he himself proved to be the largest and enthusiastic audience, and finally, in sheer disgust at American institutions he went to Europe, where we believe he still tarries

Cedar Rapids had a jealous husband but he feels better now He is old and rich and married to a young and pretty wife Suspicious of her fidelity gradually increased until the unhappy man resolved to test them by stratagem Announcing his intention to spend a month at an Eastern water cure he departed one morning, but returned, by the next train Reaching home late in the evening, he armed himself and started for his residence Yes, he was right, there was a bright light in his wife's bedroom Crouching under the window, he heard a low murmuring of voices, and at once began to work himself into the necessary passion. Quietly entering the house, and hastening to his wife's room he demanded instant admittance There was a hurrying of feet within, and his wife said tremblingly, Wait a minute This was enough With a tremendous kick he smashed in the door just in time to see his wife close a closet door and place herself against it Now he had him' Pistol in hand, he thrust the partner of his sorrow aside, and pulling open the door of the closet, stood face to face with a scantily attired young lady who had come to stay with his wife He put up his pistol and went away.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY

WASHINGTON CITY D C Jan 27 1872

ACTIONS OF CITY AND SA

Said company shall use a common seal and its said coal shall represent America a beautiful woman her right foot on the Rocky Mountains, her left one on the Alleghany showing her flag floating on both oceans and feeding with plenty and joy on a most luxuriant soil, between them an innumerable happy family of all sorts of men and other creatures

Such was to be the seal of a company who fifty years ago memorialized Congress for aid in constructing a wagon road from some point on the Missouri river, above the mouth of the Kansas, to the Columbia river

Then, wagon roads were the channels of commerce as railroads are now, and ordinarily looked to with quite as much interest Enlarged views were entertained of the importance of the proposed road, in respect to its affording the facilities for transportation and opening up and settling large quantities of the public lands securing and protecting the American fur trade, the friendship of the Indians, and weaning them from British influence and British rule facilitating trade and intercourse with northwestern Mexico, now California, establishing military and naval stations upon the Columbia, with a commercial and naval power on the Pacific ocean, resulting in the settlement of the country from the British, and in opening and establishing a commerce with Asia

Wild and visionary as these things may have seemed at the time, they have since been accomplished The road has been traveled by the hardy pioneer the Indian has been subdued and weaned from British rule and British influence, the Columbia has been settled, the otter and the beaver, followed by the last trapper, have fled in amazement at the daring and progress of civilization, the golden commerce of Mexico has been found in the rich placers of California, and greatly multiplied in those of Oregon, Idaho, and Montana, and our commercial and naval power established upon the Pacific ocean, "while Oriental commerce is beginning to run like wine across our continent"

But enough. The prophecy is fulfilled the seal is broken, the beautiful woman, mounted upon an iron steed with flags athwart, and golden arrow pointing where the sun sets deep, ascends the mountain top, and calling the peaks of eternal snow to witness, places her left foot on the Rocky Mountains, and her left one pointing on the Alleghany, in the presence of millions of people feeding with plenty and joy upon a most luxuriant soil, unfolds the American flag on the Atlantic and Pacific

As the fruits of Asiatic commerce, we have already an hundred car loads of teas and silks per month, pouring across the continent yet it is but as the point of a wedge, whose base none can estimate It has been the growth and support of empires for thousands of years, and furnished a problem for the greatest nations on earth, while, as has well been said, "our commercial position on the Pacific coast is the most powerful of the later modifying elements of the problem drawing the trade of the East with an increasing power of attraction"

Connected with all these, are there not other questions of vast import demanding the attention and consideration of the American people? How are those teas, silks and other articles imported from China and Japan, paid for? is it in specie or in an exchange of commodities? are our exports increasing in proportion to our imports? In a word, how is the balance of trade? For or against us? Undoubtedly, at present, it is against us

The remedy is not assumed to be in lessening our imports, but in increasing our exports Much of the latter can only be furnished profitably from the Pacific slope, not bearing transportation across the continent, and the demand is extending and widening with every ship from the Pacific slope which enters an Asiatic port, therefore every facility and encouragement possible should be given by the Government, not only to the production of articles for export, but in facilities for their transportation abroad.

We have on the Pacific slope an area of more than a million square miles, with an extent and variety of resources unequaled upon the globe, yet we have there but a few hundred thousand inhabitants to bring out and develop these vast resources

By every consideration we should hasten the increase of our exports from the Pacific. This can be best done by populating the country, every section of which should be made accessible from every other section of the United States, and on the most direct route, and by the most convenient and appropriate means. Railroads should be constructed into and through all the great districts of the public lands, opening them up for settlement and population, and affording channels for commerce flowing to and from the older States

For with the construction of such roads, and the consequent increase of population, comes increased demands for goods, wares and merchandise, and for more manufactures and more laborers, not merely for furnishing iron, locomotives, cars and equipments in the construction and operating of such roads, comparatively temporary, but to meet a continuous and increasing demand for all the variety of articles manufactured in the older States, and so abundantly used and consumed on the Pacific coast

By this process as it has been so shall it be again homes will be provided for the homeless, and made convenient and easy of access, the new country will be populated and improved, and the products of agriculture greatly multiplied with increasing demands for commerce with the older States exports will be increased tending to make the balance of trade in our favor, making exchanges abroad easy and convenient, and the money which would otherwise go abroad will be retained in the country to meet the increasing demands of commerce and so a full measure of the benefits to be derived from such improvements will be reflected upon every branch of industry

PORTLAND AND SALT LAKE RAILROAD

The Committee of the Senate on Public Lands had yesterday under consideration the bill granting lands to the Portland and Salt Lake Railroad. Senator Corbett, W W Chapman and your humble servant were before the Committee while they were in session The two former made speeches in behalf of the bill The bill could pass the Senate but similar bills failed in the House last Congress, and the Committee of the Senate now wish the House to act first

The Road Blockaded Again.

CORINNE, March 3—A telegram from Medicine Bow says No 3 of the 1st is at Sherman now and not much prospect of their getting through for a day or two. No 4 of the 1st went east last night and is at Rock Creek Snow in the cuts there is worse than ever. It is thawing some to day

EUROPEAN STATISTICS—A Berlin statistician has published the following useful summary of facts and figures Europe had fifty six States before the Italian war, while now it has only eighteen, with a total superficial area of 179,000 square miles, and a population of 300,900,000 Of these the German Empire comprises 9 888 square miles, and a population of 40,106,900, (according to the census of 1867) The principal States in Europe with a population of more than 25,000,000, are Russia, 71,000 000 Germany, 40,000,000, France, 36,500 000, Austro Hungary, 36,000,000 Great Britain, 32,000 000 and Italy 26,500 000 their total population is, therefore, four-fifths that of the whole of Europe A century ago, before the partition of Poland, the Great Powers only possessed one-half of the then population of Europe, thus Russia, 18,000,000, Austria, 17,000 000, Prussia 5,000,000; England, 12,000,000, and France 26,000,000, total, 80 000,000 The number of Roman Catholics in Europe generally, is 148,000,000—35 500,000 in France, 26,000,000 in Austria, 26,000 000 in Italy 16 000,000 in Spain, and 14,500,000 in Germany, Greek Catholics, 70,000,000—54,000,000 in Russia, 5,900 000 in Turkey, 4,000,000 in Roumania, and 3,000,000 in Austria Protestants, 71,000,000—25,000,000 in Germany, 24,000,000 in England, 3,500,000 in Sweden and Norway, 4 000,000 in Russia and 3 500,000 in Austria Jews, 4 800,000 1 700,000 in Russia, 822,000 in Austria, 1,300,000 in Hungary, and 500,000 in Germany Dividing Europe into nationalities there are 82,300 000 of the Slavonic race, 97,500,000 of the Latin races, and 93 500,000 of the Germanic race

LIGHT FROM A NEW QUARTER—The Paris Figaro gives the following method of obtaining light instantaneously without the use of matches and without danger of setting things on fire Take an oblong vial of the whitest and clearest glass put in it a piece of phosphorus about the size of a pea upon which pour some olive oil heated to the boiling point, filling the vial about one-third full, and then seal the vial hermetically To use it remove the cork and allow the air to enter the vial, and then recork it The whole empty space in the bottle will then become luminous, and the light obtained will be equal to that of a lamp As soon as the light grows weak its power can be increased by opening the vial and allowing a fresh supply of air to enter In winter it is sometimes necessary to heat the vial between the hands to increase the fluidity of the oil Thus prepared, the vial may be used for six months This contrivance is now used by the watchmen of Paris in all magazines where explosive or inflammable materials are stored

When a negro jury in Mississippi went out to deliberate, one juror asked another, "Is dis a hanging case?" "To be sure, nigger was the answer "Well, said the first juror "dis nigger heerd one of dem lawyers say dat boy's gone coming back here and haunt us if we hang him I no go for hanging and have dat boy a goss foiler me" No, sir" for fear of manslaughter

GUADALOUPE MINE, near San Jose Aug 15 1871

DR A M LOMBARD & Co —For a long time I have been afflicted with rheumatism in my hands and feet the pains most of the time being very severe On the 7th of July I procured some of your ONE WEEK REMEDY and after taking only three bottles find that I am quite restored to health and strength I have had the rheumatism for eleven (11) years and think that there is no case of the kind resisting a disease of so long standing is so short a time is very remarkable

Appetizer I have never met with anything equal to the ONE WEEK REMEDY During the time I was taking it I gained three (3) pounds in weight Trusting that this short statement may be useful in advising others affected as I was to try the "ONE WEEK" I remain, very truly yours

THE FIRST LECTURE OF THE COURSE WILL BE delivered by REV D E N NESBIT, of Corvallis on

Tuesday Evening, March 5th, 1872,

at 7½ o'clock

SUBJECT—"MISTAKES

MR NESBIT'S Lecture on "Shoddy," delivered in our Course of a year ago was such a decided success that no one who heard it then will fail to hear him this time The subject will admit of the same general treatment as "Shoddy," and will enable him to present the many different kind of mistakes which make up the total of failure in human affairs, or from which we gain the experience necessary to success

He will show the variety of mistakes, their use and danger—mistakes sad and ludicrous, mistakes in love, marriage business kitchens, fish, reforms, religion, politics &c &c The Lecture will abound with illustrations from the whole field of literature as well as real life anecdotes pathetic and amusing will sparkle here and there together with recitations from various authors

In obedience to a generally expressed desire Mr Nesbit has consented to recite again the beautiful and inimitable poem of Barbara Fritchie, in the previous rendition of which he showed himself a finished and dramatic elocutionist

INCOME TAX FOR 1871.

The time has arrived for persons to make up their returns for the year ending December 31st, 1871 The Assistant Assessors are now distributing blanks for that purpose They find an impression abroad that this income tax had expired with the last year Such impression is erroneous which any one can see by reading the law as passed July 14th 1870 to wit Sec 6 That there shall be levied and collected annually as hereafter provided for the years eighteen hundred and seventy and eighteen hundred and seventy-one, and no longer a tax of two and one half per centum upon the gain profit and income of every person residing in the United States and of every citizen of the United States residing abroad derived from any source whatever whether within or without the United States except as hereafter provided and a like tax annually upon the gains, profit and income derived from any business, trade or profession carried on in the United States, by any person residing without the United States and not a citizen thereof or from rents of real estate within the United States owned by any person residing without the United States and not a citizen thereof

Sec 10 That the tax hereinbefore provided shall be assessed upon the gains profits and income for the year ending on the thirty first day of December next; proceeding the time for levying and collecting said tax and shall be levied on the first day of March eighteen hundred and seventy one and eighteen hundred and seventy two and be due and payable on or before the thirteenth day of April in each of said years And in addition to any sum annually due and unpaid after the thirteenth day of April and for ten days after notice and demand thereof by the collector there shall be levied and collected as a penalty the sum of five per centum on the amount unpaid and interest on said amount at the rate of one per centum per month from the time the same became due except from the estate of deceased insane or insolvent persons

CALIFORNIA CRIMINALS

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON REQUISITION THE HABEAS CORPUS EXPEDIENT TRIED—JAIL DELIVERY THREATENED—THE ROADS IN A STATE OF ERUPTION

Among the passengers by the steamer Idaho last Friday morning was Mr Leo Harris, Deputy Sheriff of Sacramento county California He came armed with two requisitions from Governor Booth for the arrest of Frank Anderson and Joseph Brannan Obtaining the assistance of the police he found both the parties of whom he was in search Anderson was arrested Friday night and lodged in the city jail He is an escaped convict who fled from California while out on bail pending a new trial Brannan is charged with arson He was found at work at Walker's planing mill was taken into custody and placed in jail to await the sailing of the steamer

HISTORY OF ANDERSON'S CASE

In 1869 Frank Anderson killed a man named James Quigley, in a saloon row at Sacramento a waiter girl in the saloon being at the bottom of the quarrel He was arrested tried for manslaughter, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of five years A new trial was afterward obtained which however resulted as before and Anderson was again sentenced to the penitentiary for five years After he had served a year of his term the matter was taken up in the Supreme Court of the State and another trial was granted While this proceeding was pending he was released on $5 000 bail He concluded not to wait for the trial, and absconded coming to this city where he has lived for several months The trial coming on and the accused failing to appear, his bail was declared forfeited Mr Harris had however, kept track of Anderson's movements and a requisition was obtained from Governor Booth for his arrest, which was effected as we have before stated

PETITION FOR HABEAS CORPUS

The arrest of Anderson being soon known among his associates, they soon raised a subscription and employed counsel to get him out of the hands of his captor by habeas corpus Judge Upton was applied to for the writ, and it was issued Friday night, but too late for service upon the officers having the prisoner in custody, and he was compelled to remain in the jail over night In a short time

A RIOTOUS CROWD

gathered about the jail, and threats were made that they would tear it down if Anderson was not released The crowd consisted mostly of gamblers, roughs and hangers on about the worst girl saloons They hung around the jail for several hours, hooting cursing and making night hideous with rough and obscene language A strong force of policemen was stationed in and about the jail but they seem to have been content with simply guarding the premises, instead of dispersing the crowd, till about 4 o'clock Saturday morning, when they arrested Tibbetts alias Newhall, who seemed to be the ringleader of the disorderly crowd

ANDERSON IN COURT

Saturday morning the writ of habeas corpus was served upon Mr Lappeus Chief of Police who produced the prisoner at 2 o'clock P M with a return to the writ, stating that he held the prisoner by virtue of a warrant issued by the Governor of the State of Oregon Page & Whalley appeared for the prisoner and moved a postponement of the hearing till Sunday, alleging a belief that the warrant was fraudulent in that it had been signed in blank and afterward filled up by the officers This motion was, however, overruled and the hearing was proceeded with Finally, in disposing of the matter, Judge Upton remarked that the writ of habeas corpus was a right secured for the protection of men against injustice and not for the purpose of aiding criminals to escape justice. Anderson was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff to await the sailing of the steamer Messrs Bellinger & Burmester appeared with the Prosecuting Attorney for the State, and Page and Whalley for the prisoner

Periodic Disorders

The paroxysmal maladies which are characterized by heat and cold prevail extensively at this season and it is a curious fact that in many parts of the country where they are prevalent, other diseases that bear no general resemblance to fever and ague or remittent fever assume a periodic type. Thus in many sections infected with chills and fever rheumatism, neuralgia, hysteria, diarrhoea etc sometimes become intermittent thereby indicating that they have been engendered by the same poisonous exhalations which produce the first named disease.

In all these marked cases of ague—for such they are—as well as in the regular intermittents the most safe and reliable remedy that can be administered is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Neither quinine nor arsenic are needed Both are in the highest degree dangerous, and are sure to leave sad traces of their poisonous action in the system, whether they arrest the paroxysms or not In many instances all the so called specifics of the regular materia medica utterly fail to break up intermittent and remittent disorders But the great vegetable Tonic never fails The spasm of the minute blood vessels which causes the chill is the result of nervous weakness, produced by the debilitating operation of an unwholesome atmosphere and the tone and vigor given to the nervous system by the Bitters enable it to throw off the disease The wiser policy, however is to anticipate attacks of this nature by arousing all the latent energies of the body at the commencement of the moist and chilly season with this incomparable antidote By pursuing this course intermittents remittents rheumatism colic biliousness dyspepsia and pulmonary affections may always be prevented

The New York Custom House Investigation

The following article is from the New York Times

Whatever abuses this examination has re vealed no more touch Gen Grant than they do the memory of Mr Lincoln or Mr Buchanan They have existed in the Custom house of this port since the time "whereof the memory of man extendeth not to the contrary They are abominable and disgraceful But Gen Grant is no more responsible for them than he is for the Revenue laws of the First Congress.

One would think from the outcry in the Democratic press that no Collector before Mr Grinnell or Mr Murphy and no officer of the Custom-house had ever received anything beyond their salaries These gentlemen simply followed old laws of Congress, and collected their legal fees beyond their salaries or were paid by their fees We don't like the system we think the Collector of this port should get a handsome salary and no more We believe that a bonus-ey, like the storage of unclaimed goods worth, it is vaguely said, (though this is disputed) from sixty thousand to one hundred thousand dollars a year—should go into the T -sury of the Government Gen Grant no doubt thinks the same thing but the laws of Congress and the custom of this port have decided otherwise and thus far every President Democratic or Republican has accepted the custom and the law

One would think also, from the edifying and virtuous homilies of the Tribune and the World that no Administration before Gen Grant's had ever employed the officers of the Custom house in politics. Yet one of the "Fenton" witnesses, on Thursday testified somewhat unwillingly that the whole body of employes went to the Republican Convention of 1870, and labored hard for Mr Greeley. Probably that virtuous politician has employed the whole custom house force, directly or indirectly, not less than fifty times in his "chequered career." And the World knows well that Mr Schell, and all previous Democratic Collectors, never hesitated to use every avenue agent they could find to carry elections, both in this State and all neighboring States We detest them, t - We think it vitiates our whole body politic We hope for the day when civil service reform shall uproot it, but Gen Grant is no more responsible for it than was Gen Taylor

Then as to the "General Order system," Gen Grant had nothing to do with the origin of this It began in 1864. It had its commencement in the necessities of commerce Mr Stewart, it is true, does not like it, and many other merchants think it op- ve and inocuous t But, on the other hand, all the great steamship companies who have their piers on the New York side, and who import the immense majority of the goods brought into this port, testified on Friday that they consider it by far the "most convenient and economical system, and that the former system was "oppressive" to them To our minds as outside observers, the system does not seem either convenient or economical, and it would appear that Go. ment ought to have its own warehouses for unclaimed goods But in the mercantile community, there is evidently a difference of opinion on the subject. Mr Stewart, it is true, twice complained to the President of the system But Mr Stewart is only a private individual and may have his own "ax to grind though it be a large one not unlike any other merchant s Moreover the President may have had equally strong reasons to ob- tained on the other side from the Liverpool steamship companies We can well suppose it was not a question he could at once decide

The letter to Mr Grinnell introducing Mr. Leet about which so much noise is made, does not seem to have been different from what any President might have given to a trusted man General Porter also testified that the President supposed Leet was going to settle in business in New York, but that he objected to his h - g any office, because he had been on his (the President's) st-f Leet may have given Grinnell an im- on of his influence with the President which was ov-rstated There was no special impropriety however in the Collector giving the Gen-l Order business to a respected army officer who had served his country There is no evidence that Mr Leet has been corrupt or has cheated the Government

The only improper thing was that he should for a time reside in Washington and manage this business in New York; but this has been a not uncommon practice. There is not the slightest evidence that Mr. Grinnell s dismissal had anything to do with Mr Leet On the contrary, it probably arose from the outcry of the carmen against him because of his "Carman s Bureau, and from other private com- In fine, we may say that there is not the faintest testimony that General Grant derived any advantage from the general order system, or indeed that he knew much about it The faults thus far revealed are faults inherent to the custom house system and are not peculiar to any Administration or Collector

English Railways

In 1861 the number of miles of railway open in Great Britain was 10 865 and the paid up capital £362 327 388 or £33 348 per mile on the average The parliamentary return for 1870 shows 15 532 miles of railway at the close of that year and £539 908 673 of paid up capital or £35 106 per mile average The increase of 4 672 in the number of miles in nine years is a pretty good showing for England but doesn t amount to very much in comparison with the enterprise of this country, which built 16 613 miles of railway during the nine years ending an 1869 notwithstanding the fact that time in an expensive controversy with muskets, which had the effect to divert its attention from enterprises of this character

The figures given above discloses the fact that the amount of capital embarked in British railways averaged $166 740 per mile in 1861 and that the average had increased to $170 040 per mile in 1870 This fact would seem to indicate that the cost either of constructing, or of operating railways or both has increased somewhat since 1861 It is probable that the increase of capital required has been due mainly to the substitution of steel for iron rails and to heavy outlays incurred to promote safety and convenience in entering cities

MARRIAGE NOTICES The London Times is the first paper which charged for its marriage announcements In the early days of that paper it was customary in announcing a marriage state the amount of bride s dowry—£20 000 or £40 000 or whatever it might happen to be, and in looking through the ladies column one morning at breakfast Mr Walter threw out the suggestion that if a man married all this money he might certainly pay a trifling percentage upon it to the printer for acquainting the world with the fact These marriage fe s would f m a nice little pocket money for me my dear added Mrs Walter and I s joke her husband agreed to try the experiment The charge at first was but a trifle and the amount not much But Mrs Walter at her death passed this prescription of hers to her daughter and when a few years ag the r ght was re purchased by the present proprietor it was assessed at £1 000 to $ 000 a year

Gold in New York 110

Foreign and Legal Tender quotations as noted by us and Gold Exchange

Le e Easter a mi ces to han l state that the money ma ket was quiet and stocks but little advanced at the close on a portion of the long Government bonds were strong both in New York and London caused by some of the German bankers covering in London and addition a pooling my ered for home investment On February 14th the Assistant Treasurer in New York paid out $13 000 gold on account of fractional currency ordered and making a total to date of $4 493 000 and $62 000 on account of January into est making a total of $17 699 000

From the New York Shipping List of February 19th we learn that the Senate Finance Committee had directed Mr Sherman to report a bill authorizing Mr Boutwell to redeem $3 000 000 per month of three per cent certificates We are not advised what course has been taken in the Senate in the premises but if this authority is given and acted upon a virtual contraction of the currency begins These three per cents are now only redeemable in proportion as the new issue of new National bank notes are made and being a portion of the legal reserve of the banks they of course will be compelled to substitute Legal Tenders as the certificates are withdrawn

The question of resumption of specie payment is being agitated East with renewed interest in commercial and financial circles

The steamship Orizimba is to leave San Francisco tomorrow for this port. She will probably bring up the balance of back Eastern mail. She is due here on Wednesday

The steamship Idaho is day for leaving has been postponed to Tuesday March 5th at 4 o clock P M

The British ship Chester will finish taking in cargo of wheat so as to clear for Cork on the 6th

The Dixie Thompson s officers report no vessels in at Astoria, and no vessel reported off the Bar

The amount of back t - ht on the overland railroad at the raising of the blockade was estimated at between 3,000 and 10 000 tons. Clothing dry goods, etc received here by the Idaho came by way of Panama—overland freight not through when she left. The Orizimba will bring up some delayed goods

The general tenor of Eastern exchanges recevel s far indicates still higher prices ruling East this season, if not for the entire year An advance of from ¼@1 - c per pound was established in Chicago on Dried Apples about the middle of February—selling there at from 6@10c per pound as per quality and condition Candles were firmer Canned Goods in consequence of an advance in tin with little expectation of prices receding were held firm at a shade advance, with a tendency to a further advance Coffee under more favorable advices from producing countries to holders was very firm as also Rice. Sugar ruled in buyers' favor and Provisions, but the latter were expected to advance in view of which holders were firm Wool, under a very active demand from manufacturers and also a contemplated heavy shipment to England in consequence of prices being higher in that market, had advanced in prices It was claimed at the date of last advices that the highest figure had not been attained although higher than ever before known In Warehouse—Staple Goods—manufacturers were marking up prices on nearly every article not advanced, while in other lines another advance had been made in addition to advances already established. In Iron prices were marked up to correspond with the advance in raw
